

COOKIE POLICY

Financial Reporting Council of Nigeria ("we" or "us" or "our") may use cookies when you visit our website, including any other media form, media channel, mobile website, or mobile application linked or connected thereto (collectively, the "Site"), to help customize the Site and improve your experience.

We reserve the right, at any time and for any reason, to amend this Cookie Policy. Any modifications will be communicated to you by amending the "Last Updated" date on this Cookie Policy. Any changes or modifications will take effect as soon as the new Cookie Policy is posted on the Site, and you have the right to receive explicit notice of any such change or modification.

Cookies are little text files that are sent and kept on your device by our websites or portals. We use cookies to provide you with a more personalized service and to improve the usability of our websites and portals.

Our cookies may be session cookies (temporary cookies that identify and track users within our websites or portals and are deleted when you close your browser or leave your session) or persistent cookies (cookies that allow our websites or portals to "remember" who you are and your preferences within our websites or portals and will remain on your computer or device after you close your browser or leave your session).

We use the following types:

Essential cookies

These are cookies which are needed for our websites or portals to function properly, for example, these cookies allow you to access secure areas of our website/portal.

Performance cookies.

These cookies collect information about how visitors and users use our websites and portals. These cookies don't collect information that identifies a visitor or user. All information these cookies collect is aggregated and therefore anonymous. We only use these cookies to improve how our website and portal.

Functionality cookies.

These cookies allow our websites and portals to remember choices you make (such as your user name, language or the region you are in) and provide enhanced, more personal features. These cookies can also be used to remember changes you have made to text size, fonts and other parts of web pages that you can customise. They may also be used to provide services you have asked for. The information these cookies collect may be anonymised and they cannot track your browsing activity on other websites.

Analytics Cookies.

Analytics Cookies monitors how users reached the Site, and how they interact with and move around once on the Site. These cookies let us know what features on the Site are working the best and what features on the Site can be improved.

Control of Cookies

Most browsers are set to accept cookies by default. However, you can remove or reject cookies in your browser's settings. Please be aware that such action could affect the availability and functionality of the Site.

Privacy Policy

For more information about how we use information collected by cookies, please refer to our Privacy Policy. This Cookie Policy is part of and is incorporated into our Privacy Policy. By using the Site, you agree to be bound by this Cookie Policy and our Privacy Policy.
